

Women's Health Statewide
Monthly Tuesday Seminar

Young Refugees' Experiences of Violence and Non-Violence

Join Renae Willsmore, a current PhD candidate from the University of South Australia, and a Social Work practitioner as she discusses her current research into young refugees' experiences of violence and non-violence, outlines her research findings and provides an overview of emerging literature.

Renae has extensive professional practice working with refugees and will highlight the intersections between the literature, her research, and her practice experience.

When: 10am – 12 noon, 9 June 2009

Where: Women's Health Statewide
64 Pennington Terrace,
North Adelaide

Cost: Free
Morning tea will be provided

Bookings are essential as seating is limited.
RSVP to 08 8239 9600 by 2nd June 2009.

---

Women's Health Statewide is a women's health service that works within a feminist framework. We use a woman-centred approach that values women's experience and knowledge. The work of Women's Health Statewide includes: counselling, project work, training and education and resources development. Our major focus areas are Aboriginal women's health, mental health and sexual violence.

© Department of Health, Government of South Australia. All rights reserved.